Annual Report 2022

For the year ended March 31, 2022

Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd.

The Meiko Group consists of Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd. (the “Company”), eleven consolidated subsidiaries, ten non-consolidated subsidiaries, and one affiliated company (the “Group”). As the Group’s businesses are primarily in PCB design, manufacturing, sales, and ancillary operations, the descriptions of other businesses are omitted as they are of little significance.

Forward-looking Statements:
This annual report contains forward-looking statements that are based on the information currently available to management, and estimates involving uncertain factors thought likely to have an effect on future results. As such, they include various risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially from these projections for a variety of reasons, including changes in business environments, market trends and exchange rate fluctuations relevant to the business of Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd.

Financial Review: Management’s Discussion and Analysis

The forward-looking statements in this section are based on the Group’s assumptions as of the end of the current consolidated fiscal year.

(1) Significant accounting policies and estimates

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan (“Japanese GAAP”). The presentation of these consolidated financial statements requires estimates that affect the selection and application of accounting policies, the reporting amounts of assets, liabilities, profits and expenses and the disclosure thereof. The management has assessed those estimates in view of past results and reasonable assumptions, however, actual results may differ from the estimates presented due to uncertainties that are intrinsic to estimates.

(2) Analysis of the Group’s financial position

Assets

Assets as of March 31, 2022 were ¥168,329 million, up ¥26,289 million from the end of the previous fiscal year. This change mainly comprised a decrease of ¥1,671 million in cash and cash equivalents, an increase of ¥6,245 million in trade notes and accounts receivable, and an increase of ¥7,610 million in inventories in current assets, in addition to an increase of ¥13,775 million in property, plant and equipment in non-current assets.

Liabilities

Liabilities as of March 31, 2022 were ¥109,643 million, up ¥8,214 million from the end of the previous fiscal year. This change mainly comprised an increase of ¥3,853 million in trade notes and accounts payable, an increase of ¥7,333 million in short-term borrowings, a decrease of ¥2,342 million in the current portion of long-term borrowings, and an increase of ¥4,020 million in other in current liabilities, in addition to a decrease of ¥5,959 million in long-term borrowings in non-current liabilities.

Net assets

Net assets as of March 31, 2022 were ¥58,686 million, up ¥18,075 million from the end of the previous fiscal year. This mainly reflected a ¥10,413 million increase in retained earnings, a ¥1,441 million decrease due to the purchase of treasury stock, and a ¥9,046 million increase in foreign currency translation adjustment.

(3) Analysis of business results

1) Net sales

In the electronic components industry, where the Group operates, sales of PCBs (printed circuit boards) for automotive products were favorable as demand continued to expand due to the progress of electrification of vehicles, partially offset by the negative impact of production adjustments by customers owing to semiconductor shortages and other factors. Consequently, net sales for the fiscal year under review increased ¥32,018 million, or 26.8%, from the previous fiscal year to ¥151,275 million.

2) Gross profit

Cost of sales increased ¥22,148 million, or 21.8%, from the previous fiscal year to ¥123,880 million due to the impact of the steep rise in raw material prices, while net sales increased and cost reduction measures were implemented throughout the Group. Consequently, gross profit for the fiscal year under review increased ¥9,870 million, or 56.3%, from the previous fiscal year to ¥27,395 million. The gross margin rose 3.4 percentage points from the previous fiscal year to 18.1%.

3) Operating income

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased ¥3,273 million, or 30.1%, from the previous fiscal year to ¥14,140 million, due to increases in research and development costs and personnel expenses. As a result, operating income for the fiscal year under review increased ¥6,597 million, or 99.1%, from the previous fiscal year to ¥13,255 million. The operating margin rose 3.2 percentage points from the previous fiscal year to 8.8%.

4) Ordinary income

Non-operating income increased ¥1,295 million to ¥2,090 million, mainly due to an increase in foreign exchange gains and a decrease in subsidy income. Non-operating expenses decreased ¥705 million to ¥1,050 million, mainly due to decreases in commission for syndicated loans and foreign exchange losses. As a result, ordinary income for the fiscal year under review increased ¥8,597 million, or 150.9%, from the previous fiscal year to ¥14,295 million.

5) Profit attributable to owners of parent

In the fiscal year under review, extraordinary income amounted to ¥13 million, mainly due to the recording of gain on sales of investment securities, net of ¥10 million. Extraordinary losses totaled ¥1,695 million, mainly due to the recording of loss on sale and retirement of non-current assets of ¥524 million, business restructuring expenses of ¥226 million, and loss related to COVID-19 pandemic of ¥647 million. The total amount of income taxes–current and income taxes–deferred increased ¥753 million to ¥1,176 million. The loss attributable to non-controlling interests was ¥14 million. As a result of the above, the net income attributable to owners of the Company was ¥11,451 million, up 146.7% compared with the previous fiscal year.

(4) Analysis of source of funds and liquidity

1) Cash flows

Cash and cash equivalents (hereafter, “net cash”) as of March 31, 2022 decreased ¥1,671 million from the previous fiscal year, to ¥10,451 million.

Cash flows of each category and their causes during the consolidated fiscal year ended March 31, 2022 were as follows.

Net cash provided by operating activities for the fiscal year under review was ¥13,975 million, up ¥6,122 million from the previous fiscal year. Increases were mainly from income before income taxes of ¥12,613 million, depreciation and amortization of ¥7,995 million, and an increase in trade notes and accounts payable of ¥1,567 million. The major decreases were increases in trade notes and accounts receivable of ¥3,618 million and inventories of ¥5,385 million.

Net cash used in investing activities was ¥11,786 million, up ¥2,296 million from the previous fiscal year. The major outflow was ¥11,835 million for the purchase of property, plant and equipment.

Net cash used in financing activities was ¥4,730 million, an increase of ¥4,111 million from the previous fiscal year. The major inflow was a net increase in short-term borrowings of ¥6,195 million. The major outflows comprised payments for long-term borrowings of ¥8,305 million, purchase of treasury stock of ¥1,222 million, and cash dividends paid of ¥1,038 million.

Trends in cash flow indicators of the Group are as follows:

	Year ended March 31, 2020	Year ended March 31, 2021	Year ended March 31, 2022
Equity ratio (%)	25.0	28.5	34.7
Market value equity ratio (%)	27.1	49.3	61.8
Cash flows versus interest-bearing debt ratio (years)	6.1	8.9	4.9
Interest coverage ratio (times)	16.3	12.4	22.0

Equity ratio = Equity capital / Total assets

Market value equity ratio = Stock market capitalization / Total assets

Cash flow versus interest-bearing debt ratio = Interest-bearing debt / Operating cash flow

Interest coverage ratio = Operating cash flow / Interest payment

Notes:

1. Each indicator is calculated based on consolidated financial values.
2. The stock market capitalization is calculated as follows: term-end closing stock price x term-end number of shares issued (after deducting shares of treasury stock). Common stocks are subject to the calculation.
3. The operating cash flow represents the cash flow provided by (used in) operating activities as indicated in the consolidated statements of cash flows. Of the liabilities posted on the consolidated balance sheets, the interest-bearing debt covers all the liabilities for which interest was paid. The interest payment represents the payment of interest indicated in the consolidated statements of cash flows.

2) Financial policy

The Group procures funds for its operations from funds on hand or borrowings from financial institutions. The Group has a policy of procuring funds for investment and loans as well as funds to acquire manufacturing equipment inside and outside Japan via long-term borrowings from financial institutions. With regard to procuring such funds and the conditions of procurement, the Group strives to select the most favorable timing and conditions.

Business Risks

Below are some of the major risks from among those described in the securities report (provided/filed in Japanese only) which may significantly affect any decisions made by investors.
Forward-looking statements are based on the Group's best judgment during the consolidated fiscal year under review.

(1) Risks related to the business environment

1) Risk related to the Group's major customers and their industries' trends

The Group's major customers are manufacturers of automotive products, smartphones and tablets, SSD and IoT modules, AI household appliances, amusement equipment, and industrial equipment, among others. The Group's major business is the manufacture and sale of PCBs, which are parts that constitute a core function of finished products. Furthermore, the Group endeavors to strengthen and expand the package board and EMS businesses as new mainstay businesses with the aim of minimizing influence from overdependence on PCBs. However, should economic trends or a natural disaster adversely impact the Group's major customers or their industry markets, such factors could affect the business performance and financial position. The monitoring of customers and trends in their industries and measures to minimize influence implemented by the Group cannot eliminate said risk completely. Therefore, the Group realizes that such risk could emerge in the event of a sudden change in market conditions, with the influence depending on the timing and size of the incident.

2) Raw materials market fluctuation risk

The Group strives to minimize risk using commodity derivatives. However, if an unexpected surge in the procurement prices of crude oil, copper, gold, or any other materials is not able to be passed on to our selling prices to customers, or if we may miss business opportunities due to difficulty in procuring materials, the business performance and financial position could thus be adversely affected. As said risk cannot be lessened or eliminated completely by the above mentioned measures to minimize risk alone, the Group realizes that it is inevitable that it will suffer some degree of impact if such risk actually emerges.

3) Risk related to technological development and price competition

The time will come when all things are connected, due to the increase in the use of electronics in vehicles, the dissemination of electric vehicles, the emergence of connected cars based on 5G communication, and the worldwide spread of IoT. Although the Group expects expansion of demand for PCBs, to address intensifying global competition stemming from downward pressure on prices from China and Southeast Asia, the Group needs to differentiate its products with technology. To this end, the Group is developing technologies such as element technologies to make wires thinner and hole diameters smaller, as well as cost-reduction technologies. However, should such technologies diverge from market needs and not be accepted, the Group may become embroiled in a price war, or the yield rate may decline, which could affect its business performance and financial position. The Group closely monitors customers' needs, competitors' technology, and price movements, etc. However, as this type of risk is inherent in business management and is difficult to eliminate completely, such risk might ordinarily emerge in the process of business management. The Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate of the influence when such risk actually emerges, since the influence may depend on the timing and conditions of the incident.

4) Risks related to the timing of capital investments

The Group conducts appropriate capital investment to enhance productivity and maintain product competitiveness in accordance with demand trends. Although capital investments are carefully determined considering market trends and brand manufacturers' business performance, should the Group's capital investments become excessive upon a downturn in the economy or manufacturers change strategies, or the operation of new facilities be delayed, factors such as the burden of depreciation costs could adversely affect the business results and financial position. In addition, should the asset value or business profitability decline, it could result in the occurrence of impairment loss, adversely affecting the business performance and financial position. The Group believes that there is not a high possibility that any individual capital investment will lead to the occurrence of impairment loss. However, risk caused by external factors, such as a sudden change in market conditions, natural disasters, and infectious diseases, cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's risk management alone. There is a possibility that the Group will suffer impact in the event of the occurrence of such risk, with the influence depending on the timing and size of the incident.

5) Risk related to equipment failures and accidents

Although the Group conducts regular inspections and maintenance work on its production equipment as well as plant monitoring using IoT technology in its manufacturing bases and strives to minimize the occurrence of equipment failures, fire, or other accidents, which may result in the suspension of line operations, there is no guarantee that these will be prevented or reduced completely. Should production or shipping be suspended for a long period of time due to these factors, the business performance and financial position could be adversely affected. Said risk cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own risk management alone. There is a possibility that the Group will suffer impact in the event of the occurrence of such risk, with the influence depending on the frequency and size of the incident. However, the Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate of the influence in light of the conditions of such risk.

6) Risk related to product defects

PCBs are mounted with electronic components and then embedded in finished products. The Group manufactures PCBs in compliance with globally accepted quality control standards. In addition, brand manufacturers conduct inspections upon receipt of the finished product checking for product defects. However, should a large-scale recall or a product liability claim occur, such an incident would incur significant costs that cannot be covered by insurance amounts and harm the value of our corporate brand, which could adversely affect the business performance and financial position. The Group believes that there is not a high possibility that said risk will emerge. However, as such risk cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own risk management alone, the Group realizes that it is inevitable that it will suffer some degree of impact if such risk emerges.

(2) Risk related to natural disasters, etc.

1) Risk related to natural disasters

If natural disasters, such as earthquakes, tsunami, floods, storms, or torrential downpours occur, operation of the Group's facilities may be partially or totally suspended, resulting in delays in production and shipments. Having learned from past experiences, the Group reviews its risk management system appropriately and endeavors to secure the safety of its employees and protect its facilities against natural disasters. However, should a disaster of an enormous scale occur in the future, we may consume expenses required to restore damaged production facilities and experience a sales decline, resulting in an adverse effect on the business performance and financial position. Said risk cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own risk management alone. There is a possibility that the Group will suffer impact in the event of the occurrence of such risk, with the influence depending on the frequency and size of the incident. However, the Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate of the influence in light of the conditions of such risk.

2) Risk related to infectious diseases

During the COVID-19 pandemic, the Group has continued thorough implementation of preventive measures to secure the safety of customers, business partners, and employees and prevent the further spread of infection in accordance with the guidance of health authorities in each country where we operate. However, situations such as the health crisis becoming prolonged, pandemic conditions continuing, or new types of infections occurring might result in suspension of the Group's factories, worsening of the Japanese and global economy, and contraction of economic activities, which could adversely affect the business performance and financial position. Said risk cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own risk management alone. There is a possibility that the Group will suffer impact in the event of the occurrence of such risk, with the influence depending on the frequency and size of the incident. However, the Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate of the influence in light of the conditions of such risk.

(3) Risk related to compliance

As the Group operates its business in bases inside and outside Japan, it needs to comply with a wide range of laws and regulations and restrictions. In Japan, the Group is required to obey the Companies Act, Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, Anti-Monopoly Act, tax laws, labor laws, and environmental laws, etc. while it must observe laws and regulations and restrictions in each country and region it operates in overseas. The Group not only established the Risk and Compliance Committee to supervise compliance with laws and regulations and restrictions but also strives to raise its employees' awareness of compliance issues by formulating and implementing its own compliance measures. However, there is a possibility that risk related to compliance will not be dodged completely by implementing these measures. Should the Group fail to perform obligations required by laws and regulations and restrictions, it could adversely affect the business performance and financial position. The Group believes that there is not a high possibility that risk related to compliance will emerge. However, as the type and timing of the occurrence, etc. of such incident cannot be controlled by the Group, it realizes that it is difficult to make an estimate of the influence beforehand.

(4) Risk related to finance, etc.

1) Financial risks

The Group has made aggressive capital investments to prepare for the anticipated increase in demand for PCBs for automotive products and smartphones, as well as in response to new products in line with technological innovation. As a result, the ratio of borrowings to total assets as of March 31, 2022 was 39.4%. Should new borrowings or refinancing of outstanding borrowings for capital investments necessary from the perspective of its business strategy become difficult in the future due to a change in monetary conditions or banks' situations, it could affect the Group's fund raising plans. In addition, a rise in interest rates on borrowings could adversely affect the business performance and financial position. As risk related to monetary conditions or each bank's situation is hard to reduce or eliminate by the Group's own measures, the Group believes that it will suffer impact in the event of the occurrence of such risk, with the influence depending on the timing, size, and conditions of the incident. However, the Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate of the influence.

2) Credit risk

As the Group extends credit to its business partners in the form of trade credit, including accounts receivables and advance payments, it is therefore exposed to credit risk in the form of losses arising from deterioration in the credit of or bankruptcy of business partners. To manage such risk, the Group responds depending on the credit profile of the counterparty based on internal rules that determine the credit limit for each business partner. However, failure to collect receivables and other credit could affect the business performance and financial position. The Group believes that it will suffer only limited impact, even if said risk emerges, since it monitors obligors' credit conditions and diversifies risk, which maintains the frequency and influence within the range of normal fluctuation of business results. Although the possibility of the abrupt emergence of unexpected credit risk from a large obligor is not completely eliminated, the Group realizes that the probability is quite low.

3) Risk related to foreign currency rate fluctuation

To operate plants in China and Vietnam, we need to hold U.S. dollars and other foreign currency-denominated assets. Therefore, the Group is exposed to yen-to-yuan, yen-to-U.S. dollar and other currencies exchange rate fluctuations. These fluctuations could result in losses. The Group strives to minimize risks to some extent by conducting exchange marry or currency exchange hedge, etc. However, should an unexpected foreign currency rate fluctuation occur, it could adversely affect the business performance and financial position. As said risk depends on the fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own effort alone, the Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate on the timing of the occurrence and influence.

4) Risk related to M&A, joint venture, and alliance

The Group forms capital alliances with and conducts joint ventures with other companies that have the technology, products, sales network, customer base, and personnel necessary for business growth. However, there is a possibility that the Group may not receive the anticipated effects or will need to spend additional expenses or incur impairment loss when the market and competition environments significantly change or the business does not develop as planned. Should such incident occur, the Group may fail to earn the forecast profits, adversely affecting its business performance and financial position. As such risk cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own risk management alone, the Group realizes that it is inevitable that it would suffer some degree of impact if such risk actually emerges.

(5) Other risk

1) Risk inherent in plant operations in China and Vietnam

To expand productivity and reduce production costs, the Group has established local corporations in Hong Kong, Guangzhou and Wuhan in China, and in Vietnam, conducting manufacturing and sales activities. In these countries, the Group may face the following difficulties—hygiene-related issues such as infectious diseases; change or introduction of environmental regulations, legal restrictions and the tax system; failure of infrastructure such as electricity, water and transportation; political uncertainty and public security-related issues; anti-Japanese demonstrations and/or labor disputes; expropriation of assets, destruction of facilities by wars and conflicts, and limitation on the transfer of funds (transfer restriction), etc. Should unexpected events such as changes in the political or legal environment, economic situation or environmental regulations occur, the business performance and financial position could be adversely affected as a result of the issues which might arise in the management of production facilities and equipment and in the execution of other operations, or a large amount of liabilities or obligations associated with the compliance of environmental conservation and other regulations. Said risk cannot be lessened or eliminated by the Group's own risk management alone. There is a possibility that the Group will suffer impact in the event of the occurrence of such risk, with the influence depending on the frequency and size of the incident. However, the Group realizes that it is difficult to make a definite estimate of the influence in light of the conditions of such risk.

2) Risk related to information security

The Group obtains customer information, etc. through its business activities from time to time and also owns confidential information on technology, sales, individual persons, and overall business. To prevent unauthorized information access, falsification, corruption, leakage, loss, and any other damages caused by cyberattacks, human errors, and any other incidents, the Group established its information management system and conducts appropriate safety procedures, including rational technological measures and drills to prepare for cybersecurity risk. However, should the leakage or loss of information occur, it could adversely affect the business performance and financial position. As the Group strives to appropriately operate its confidential information management system, it realizes that the probability of emergence of such risk is quite low.

3) Risk related to intellectual property rights

The Group recognizes intellectual properties as its significant management resources and seeks to acquire intellectual property rights by applying for patents, etc. for proprietary technologies, etc. developed by the Group with the aim of protecting intellectual properties. However, not all applications may be approved and it is also possible that obtained rights may be rendered void due to objections by third parties. Although the responsible department manages obtained intellectual properties and pays attention to violation of rights by external parties, anticipated profits could be lost in the event of illegal use, etc. Meanwhile, should a lawsuit be filed against the Group with regard to a violation of intellectual property rights of third parties, the business performance and financial position could be adversely affected as a result of the compensation or damages paid to customers due to the suspension of production and payment of license fees, etc., related to patent use in order to resume production. Although the possibility of abrupt emergence of the risk is not completely eliminated, the Group realizes that the probability is quite low.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd. and Consolidated Subsidiaries
For the Years Ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020

1. Basis of Presenting Consolidated Financial Statements
The accompanying consolidated financial statements of Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd. (the "Company") have been prepared in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law of Japan and its related accounting regulations, and in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan ("Japanese GAAP"), which are different in certain respects as to the application and disclosure requirements of International Financial Reporting Standards.
In preparing the accompanying consolidated financial statements, certain reclassifications and rearrangements have been made to present them in a form that is more familiar to readers outside Japan.
In addition, the notes to the consolidated financial statements include information that is not required under Japanese GAAP, but is presented herein as additional information.
The consolidated financial statements are denominated in Japanese yen, the currency of the country in which the Company is incorporated and operated. The conversion of Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts is included solely for the convenience of readers outside Japan and has been made at the approximate exchange rate as at March 31, 2022 ($1 = ¥122.41). Such translation should not be construed as representation that the Japanese yen amounts could be converted into U.S. dollars at that or any other rate of exchange.

2. Significant Accounting Policies
The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements.

(a) Consolidation
The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its significant 11 subsidiaries (together, the "Group"). All significant inter-company accounts and transactions have been eliminated. In the elimination of investments in subsidiaries, the assets and liabilities of the subsidiaries, including the portion attributable to minority shareholders, are recorded based on the fair value at the time the Company acquired control of the respective subsidiaries. Investments in certain unconsolidated subsidiaries are accounted for by the cost method due to immateriality in view of consolidation.

(b) Cash Equivalents
Cash equivalents are short-term investments that are readily convertible into cash and are exposed to insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash equivalents include time deposits that mature or become due within three months of the date of acquisition.

(c) Translation of Foreign Currency Accounts
Current and non-current receivables and payables in foreign currencies are translated at current rates prevailing at the balance sheet date and the resulting exchange gains or losses are recognized in the consolidated statements of operations.
Financial statements of consolidated overseas subsidiaries are translated into Japanese yen at the exchange rate as at the balance sheet date, except that shareholders' equity accounts are translated at historical rates and statement of income items resulting from transactions with the Company at the rates used by the Company.
Foreign currency translation adjustments resulting from translation of foreign currency financial statements prepared by consolidated overseas subsidiaries are presented in net assets in the consolidated balance sheets.

(d) Inventories
Inventories are stated at cost, determined by the first-in-first-out method. However, they are written down based on decreased profitability, where appropriate.

(e) Depreciation and Amortization (excluding leased assets)
Depreciation of property, plant and equipment for the Company and its domestic subsidiaries is computed mainly by the declining-balance method. Buildings (excluding facilities attached to buildings) acquired on or after April 1, 1998 and facilities attached to buildings and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016 are computed by the straight-line method. Certain buildings and property, plant and equipment for overseas subsidiaries are computed by the straight-line method.
The ranges of useful lives are summarized as follows:
Buildings and structures: 2–47 years
Machinery and vehicles: 2–10 years
Software for company use is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, which is calculated by the straight-line method over its estimated useful life of five years.

(f) Leased Assets
Leased property under finance lease arrangements that transfer ownership of the leased property to the lessee is depreciated using the same method as the one applied to property, plant and equipment owned by the Company. Leased property under finance lease arrangements that do not transfer ownership of the leased property to the lessee is capitalized to recognize leased assets and lease obligations in the balance sheets and depreciated over the lease term of the respective assets with zero residual value.

(g) Allowance for Doubtful Accounts
The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries provide for doubtful accounts principally at an amount computed based on the historical bad debt ratio during a certain reference period plus an estimated uncollectible amount based on the analysis of certain individual accounts including claims in bankruptcy.

(h) Accrued Bonuses
Accrued bonuses to employees are provided for the estimated amounts, which the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries are obligated to pay to employees after the fiscal year end based on services rendered during the current fiscal year.

(i) Accrued Bonuses to Directors
The Company provides allowance for directors' accrued bonuses based on the estimated amounts as at the balance sheet date.

(j) Provision for share awards
The Company accounts for the provision for share awards for employees based on the estimated amounts as at the balance sheet date in accordance with internal regulations.

(k) Provision for share awards for directors
The Company accounts for the provision for share awards for directors based on the estimated amounts as at the balance sheet date in accordance with internal regulations.

(l) Impairment Losses on Fixed Assets
The Group reviews its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amount of an asset or asset group may not be recoverable. An impairment loss would be recognized if the carrying amount of an asset or asset group exceeds the sum of the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the continued use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group. The impairment loss would be measured as the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use.

(m) Investment Securities
The Company has classified all the equity securities as available-for-sale securities based on management's intention. Available-for-sale securities other than equity securities without market price are reported at fair value with unrealized gains or losses, net of applicable taxes, reported in a separate component of net assets.
Equity securities without market prices are stated at cost determined by the moving-average method.

(n) Revenue Recognition
The Group mainly engages in electronic business such as designing, manufacturing and sales of electronic circuit boards ("PCB"), and the related businesses.
The Group recognizes revenue, determining its performance obligation to be satisfied, at the time of the transfer of control of promised goods and products to customers, or at the time of acceptance inspection by customers.
However, for domestic sales of goods and products, the Group recognizes revenue at the time of shipment when the periods between the shipment and the transfer of control of promised goods and products to customers are considered normal.
Consideration for goods and products received within one year from the time when performance obligation is determined to be satisfied and there is no significant financing component.

(o) Income Taxes
The provision for income taxes is computed based on the pretax income included in the consolidated statements of operations. The asset and liability approach is used to recognize deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying amounts and the tax bases of assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets are measured by applying currently enacted tax laws to the temporary differences.

(p) Derivative Financial Instruments

The Group uses interest rate swaps, currency swaps and copper price swaps as a means of hedging exposure to foreign currencies, interest risks and market fluctuation. The Group does not enter into derivatives for trading or speculative purposes.
Derivative financial instruments are classified and accounted for as follows: a) all derivatives are recognized as either assets or liabilities and measured at fair value, and gains or losses on transactions arising from derivatives except for hedging purposes are recognized in the consolidated statements of operations and b) for derivatives used for hedging purposes, if derivatives qualify for hedge accounting because of high correlation and effectiveness between the hedging instruments and the hedged items, gains or losses on derivatives are deferred until maturity of the hedged transactions.
If interest rate swap contracts are used as a hedge and meet certain criteria, the net amount to be paid or received under the swap contract is added to or deducted from the interest on the assets or liabilities for which the swap contract was executed.
For currency swaps that qualify for hedge accounting, gain or loss is translated at the exchange rate stipulated in the contract under the allocation method.

(q) Retirement Benefits for Employees

The benefit formula method is used as a method of attributing expected benefits to the periods through the end of the fiscal year in calculating projected benefit obligation.
Actuarial gain or loss is amortized using the declining balance method over 10 years, which is less than the average remaining years of service of the employees, and the amortization will be started in the following year in which the gain or loss is recognized.
Past service cost is amortized using the straight-line method over 10 years, which is less than the average remaining years of service of the employees.
Certain consolidated subsidiaries apply the simplified method in which the retirement benefit amount required for voluntary termination at year end is deemed a projected benefit obligation for the calculation of liability associated with retirement and retirement benefit expenses.

(r) Provision for Directors' Retirement Benefits

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries account for the provision for directors' retirement benefits as at the balance sheet date in accordance with internal regulations.

(s) Appropriations of Retained Earnings

Appropriations of retained earnings are reflected in the accompanying consolidated financial statements for the following year upon shareholders' approval.

(t) Per Share Information

Dividends per share shown in the consolidated statements of operations have been presented on an accrual basis and include, in each fiscal period, dividends approved after each balance sheet date, but applicable to the fiscal period then ended.
Net income per share is computed by dividing net income attributable to common shareholders of the Company by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the period.
The diluted net income per share is omitted as the Company has no dilutive shares for the years ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020.

(u) Significant Accounting Estimates

(Recoverability of deferred tax assets)
(1) Amount recorded in the consolidated financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021

	Millions of yen		Thousands of U.S. dollars
	2022	2021	2022
Deferred tax assets	¥ 1,841	¥ 1,254	$ 15,042

(2) Information on identified items regarding significant accounting estimates
① Method to calculate the amount
As of March 31, 2022, the Company recorded deferred tax assets worth ¥1,841 million ($15,042 thousand), to the extent that it is expected to reduce future taxable income.
In the calculation, the Company scheduled the period when the deductible temporary differences and tax loss carryforward would reverse, based on the future taxable income estimated according to the business plan.
Deferred tax assets before offset by the deferred tax liabilities were ¥2,063 million ($16,851 thousand).
Deferred tax assets of ¥741 million ($6,053 thousand) are recognized for tax loss carryforwards of ¥2,126 million ($17,370 thousand), calculated using the enacted statutory tax rates.
This is recognized as tax loss carryforwards of the Company's consolidated subsidiaries.

② Assumptions used in significant accounting estimates
Future taxable income used in assessment of recoverability of deferred tax assets was estimated based on the business plan, taking into consideration estimated sales reflecting order backlogs and estimated future orders as key assumptions.

③ Impact on the consolidated financial statements for the next consolidated accounting period
Deferred tax assets were calculated based on the estimated future taxable income in the expected period according to the business plan.
Estimates are potentially affected by uncertain changes in economic conditions.
When the actual taxable income is different from the estimates in the amount and the period of accrual, significant impact may occur on deferred tax assets on the consolidated financial statements for the next consolidated accounting period.

(v) Changes in Presentation Method

"Expenses for factory shutdown" previously presented independently in "Other Income (Expenses)" has been renamed "Loss related to COVID-19 pandemic" on the consolidated statements of operations for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022, in order to make the presentation clearly and more in line with actual conditions.

"Expenses for factory shutdown" and "Payments for factory shutdown" previously presented independently in "Operating Activities" have been renamed "Loss related to COVID-19 pandemic" and "Payments for loss related to COVID-19 pandemic", respectively on the consolidated statements of cash flows for the year ended March 31, 2022, in order to make the presentation clearly and more in line with actual conditions.

(w) Changes in Accounting Policy

(Adoption of "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition")
From the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022, the Group adopted "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition" (ASBJ Statement No. 29, March 31, 2020) and other related guidance.
The Group recognizes revenue at the time of the transfer of control of promised goods and products to customers in an amount to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods and products.
The Group applied the transitional treatment as stipulated in Paragraph 98 of "Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition" and recognizes revenue for domestic sales of goods and products at the time of shipment, when the periods between the shipment and the transfer of control of promised goods and products to customers are considered normal.
The transitional treatment as stipulated in Paragraph 84 of the "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition" is applied. The cumulative impact of retrospective application of the new accounting policy prior to the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022 is added to or deducted from retained earnings at the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022 so that the new accounting policy is applied from the balance at the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 2022.
In addition, "Trade notes and accounts receivable" which was presented in "Current Assets" in the consolidated balance sheets as of March 31, 2021, are presented as "Trade notes" and "Accounts receivable" in the consolidated balance sheets as of March 31, 2022.
In accordance with the transitional treatment stipulated in paragraph 89-2 of the "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition", no reclassification of previously reported amounts has been made to conform with the new presentation.
There is no effect of adopting these standards and guidance on net income, net income per share and the beginning balance of retained earnings for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022.
Notes disclosure on revenue recognition for the years ended March 31, 2021 and 2020 were omitted in accordance with the transitional treatment as stipulated in Paragraph 89-3 of "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition".

(Adoption of "Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement")
From the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022, the Group adopted "Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement" (ASBJ Statement No. 30, July 4, 2019) and other related standards and guidance.
The new accounting policies stipulated in these standards and guidance are applied prospectively in accordance with the transitional treatment in Paragraph 19 of the "Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement" and Paragraph 44-2 of the "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments" (ASBJ Statement No. 10, July 4, 2019).
There is no effect of adopting these standards and guidance on the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022.
Fair value of financial instruments and breakdown by level of fair values are disclosed in Note 17.
However, notes for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021 were not disclosed in accordance with the transitional treatment stipulated in paragraph 7-4 of the "Implementation Guidance on Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments" (ASBJ Guidance No. 19, July 4, 2019).

(x) Accounting Standards and Guidance Issued but Not Yet Adopted
"Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement"
(ASBJ Guidance No. 31, June 17, 2021)
(1) Overview
The above standard and guidance provide method of fair value measurement and required note disclosures for investment trusts, and investments in partnership and similar instruments for which net interest amounts are recorded on the balance sheet.
(2) Effective date
The above standard and guidance will become effective from the beginning of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2023.
(3) Impact of the adoption of the standard and guidance
The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries are currently in the process of determining the impact of the new standard and guidance on the consolidated financial statements.

(y) Additional Information
(Stock Delivery Trust for directors)
At the 46th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 24, 2021, the Company resolved to introduce a stock compensation plan through trust to directors (excluding outside directors).
With the plan, the Company expects to increase directors' interest in improvement of medium to long-term business performance and share price of the Company by strengthening the linkage of directors' benefits with those factors and by sharing economic benefits with shareholders.

(1) Outline of transactions
With the plan, the Company set up the trust fund by disbursing money and the trust fund acquires the Company's shares.
The shares are distributed to directors through the trust fund corresponding to the number of points directors received from the Company.
The Company's shares are distributed to directors incumbent for three years from the next day of the 46th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 24, 2021 to the end of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders to be held in June 2024.
The directors incumbent as of March 31, 2021 and reappointed at the 46th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders are eligible to receive the compensation based on the plan for the period from the next day of the 45th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders and to the end of the day of 46th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.
Basically, the Company's shares are distributed to directors at the time of their resignation as directors.

(2) The Company's shares in the trust fund
The Company recorded book values of the Company's shares in the trust fund, except for related expenses, as treasury stock in net assets.
The book values of the treasury stock is ¥96 million ($784 thousand) and the number of treasury stock is 32,800 shares as of March 31, 2022.

(Employee Stock Delivery Trust (the "J-ESOP"))
At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on February 22, 2021, the Company resolved to introduce an incentive plan referred to as the Employee Stock Delivery Trust (the "J-ESOP") under which the Company's shares will be delivered to employees of the Company, subsidiaries and affiliates.
With the plan, the Company expects to increase employees' interest in improvement of business performance and share price of the Company by strengthening the linkage of employees' benefits with those factors and by sharing economic benefits with shareholders.

(1) Outline of transactions
Under the plan, the Company's stock or a payment equivalent to fair values of the Company's stock are distributed to employees of the Company, subsidiaries and affiliates, who meet certain requirements based on the stock compensation policy set by the Company, subsidiaries and affiliates.
The Company, subsidiaries and affiliates grant points to employees according to the degree of their contribution. If employees meet certain conditions to receive the compensation under the plan, the shares or payments corresponding to the number of points are distributed to employees.
The shares to be distributed to employees are acquired by the trust fund set in advance and separately managed as trust assets.

(2) The Company's shares in the trust fund
The Company recorded book values of the Company's shares in the trust fund, except for related expenses, as treasury stock in net assets.
The book values of the treasury stock is ¥288 million ($2,354 thousand) and number of treasury stock is 106,800 shares as of March 31, 2022.

(Accounting Estimates Relating to the Spread of the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19 pandemic))
The Company made accounting estimates for recoverability of deferred tax assets, impairment of fixed assets and others, based on the information available at the time of the preparation of the consolidated financial statements.
Although it is difficult to forecast the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic and the timing of the return to normal in the future, the Company made accounting estimates based on the assumption that the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the Company's business operation is limited, considering the latest operating activities.
However, there are still many uncertain factors for estimating the impact of the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic, which may influence the Company's financial conditions and operating results for the next consolidated accounting period.

3. Investment Securities

All the equity securities, classified as available-for-sale securities, are included in non-current investment securities.
The carrying amounts and aggregate fair values of the available-for-sale securities as of March 31, 2022 and 2021 are as follows:

	2022

The amount required to contribute to the defined contribution plans is ¥166 million ($1,357 thousand) and ¥165 million for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

7. Net Assets

Under the Japanese Corporation Law ("the Law") and regulations, the entire amount paid for new shares is required to be designated as capital stock. However, a company may, by a resolution of the Board of Directors, designate an amount not exceeding one half of the price of the new shares as additional paid-in capital, which is included in capital surplus.

In cases where dividend distribution of surplus is made, the smaller of an amount equal to 10% of the dividend or the excess, if any, of 25% of capital stock over the total of additional paid-in capital and legal earnings reserve must be set aside as additional paid-in capital or legal earnings reserve. Legal earnings reserve is included in retained earnings in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.
Additional paid-in capital and legal earnings reserve may not be distributed as dividends. However, all additional paid-in capital and all legal earnings reserves may be transferred to other capital surplus and retained earnings, respectively, which are potentially available for dividends.
The maximum amount that the Company can distribute as dividends is calculated based on the non-consolidated financial statements of the Company in accordance with the Law.

8. Loss on disaster

For the year ended March 31, 2022
The Group recorded loss on disaster for the disposal cost and restoration cost of damage by the earthquake in Fukushima in March 2022.

For the year ended March 31, 2021
The Group recorded loss on disaster for the disposal cost of the flooded raw materials and restoration cost in the factories devastated by the heavy rain in July 2020, and restoration cost of damage by the earthquake in Fukushima in February 2021.

There were no applicable matters for the year ended March 31, 2020.

9. Expenses for Business Structure Improvement

For the year ended March 31, 2022
The Group recorded expenses for business structure improvement for the payment of financial compensation, equivalent to severance payment, with the aim of improving business structure of overseas subsidiaries and for the valuation loss on inventories in domestic subsidiaries followed by withdrawal from the business.

For the year ended March 31, 2021
The Group recorded expenses for business structure improvement for the payment of financial compensation, equivalent to severance payment, with the aim of improving business structure of overseas subsidiaries.

For the year ended March 31, 2020

17. Financial Instruments

(a) Qualitative information on financial instruments
(1) Policies for using financial instruments
The Group finances necessary funds mainly through bank loans according to the capital investment plan for the production and sales of PCB.
Temporary and excessive funds are operated by highly stable financial instruments and the Group finances short-term operating capital by bank loans.
Derivative transactions are only utilized to hedge the risks mentioned in (2) below.

(2) Details of financial instruments used and exposures to risk and how they arise
Operating receivables such as trade notes and accounts receivable are exposed to the credit risk. Some operating receivables, which are denominated in foreign currencies due to global operations, are exposed to foreign currency fluctuation risk. The Group might utilize foreign exchange forward contracts, if necessary, except for those within the range of the operating payables denominated in the same the foreign currency. Investment securities mainly consist of securities of companies in which a business relationship has been established and they are exposed to market fluctuation risk.

Operating payables such as trade notes and accounts payable are due within one year.
Some of the operating payables relating to imports of raw materials are denominated in foreign currencies and exposed to foreign currency fluctuation risk.
The Group might utilize foreign exchange forward contracts, if necessary, except for those within the range of the operating receivables denominated in the same foreign currency.
Loans and lease obligations for finance lease transactions are mainly used for the purpose of financing capital investments.
Some of them are variable interest loans and exposed to interest and foreign currency fluctuation risk.
The Group utilizes interest rate swaps and currency swaps to hedge the risk. Regarding derivative transactions, the Group utilizes foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge the foreign currency fluctuation risk of receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies. The Group utilizes interest rate swaps and currency swaps to hedge interest fluctuation risk. The Group utilizes commodity forward contracts to hedge copper price fluctuation risk.

(3) Policies and processes for managing the risk
(i) Credit risk management (risk of default by the counterparties)
The sales management department in the Company follows sales management rules, monitors the customers' credit conditions periodically and manages the due date and balance per customer. The Company keeps track of the adverse financial conditions of its customers in the early stages to mitigate the uncollectible risk.
The Company enters into derivative transactions only with the credit-worthy financial institutions to mitigate the credit risk.

(ii) Market risk management (risk of foreign currency fluctuations and interests)
Regarding the trade receivables and trade payables denominated in foreign currencies, the Company utilizes foreign exchange forward contracts, if necessary, to hedge the foreign currency fluctuation risk, which is controlled by each currency and on a monthly basis. For investment securities, the Company regularly reviews the fair value and issuers' financial condition and readjusts its portfolio on an ongoing basis considering the business relationship with counterparties. Derivative transactions are based on the internal rules and executed after getting the approval from the approver and managed by the finance department. Details of the derivative transactions are reported to Board of Directors' meeting periodically.

(iii) Liquidity risk management (risk of default at the due dates)
The Company prepares and updates the cash management plan based on the reports from each department to manage liquidity risk on a timely basis.

(4) Supplemental information on fair values
As the calculation of fair values of financial instruments adopts certain assumptions, those values may vary in case different assumptions are applied.
Also, for the contract amount regarding derivative transactions described in Note 18, the contract amount itself does not indicate market risk related to derivative transactions.

(b) Fair values of financial instruments
Book values of the financial instruments included in the consolidated balance sheets and their fair values as at March 31, 2022 and 2021 are as follows:

	2022
	Millions of yen			Thousands of U.S. dollars

(*1) Disclosure of cash and cash equivalents, trade notes and accounts receivable, trade notes and accounts payable and short-term borrowings is omitted since their book value approximate their fair value because of their short maturities.
(*2) Investments in partnership and similar instruments for which net interest amounts are recorded on the consolidated balance sheet are not included in the above table as of March 31, 2022. Book value of these financial instruments as of March 31, 2022 is ¥273 million ($2,228 thousand).
(*3) Unlisted securities of ¥2,060 million ($16,824 thousand) as of March 31, 2022 and ¥2,340 million as of March 31, 2021 are not included in the above table because the securities do not have fair market values and it is extremely difficult to estimate fair values.
(*4) Current portion is included.
(*5) Derivative financial instruments are stated in net of assets and liabilities. The figures in parenthesis indicate net liabilities.

(c) The redemption schedule for financial instruments as of March 31, 2022 and 2021 is as follows:

(d) Fair value information of financial instruments by level of inputs
Based on the observability and the significance of the inputs used to determine fair values, fair value information of financial instruments is presented by categorizing measurements into the following three levels:

Level 1 fair value: the fair value measured by quoted prices of identical assets or liabilities in active markets.
Level 2 fair value: the fair value measured using observable inputs other than Level 1.
Level 3 fair value: fair values measured using unobservable inputs.

When multiple inputs of different categories are used in measuring fair value, the Company and its subsidiaries classified fair values into a category to which the lowest priority is assigned.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in measuring fair values

Investment securities
Listed equity securities are measured using quoted prices. Fair value of listed equity securities are classified as level 1, because they are exchanged in active markets.
Please refer to Note 3. regarding the information of the fair value for the investment securities by classification.

Derivative transactions
The fair value of interest rate swap, currency swap and copper swap are determined by discounted present value method using observable inputs such as interest rates and exchange rates and categorized in Level 2.
Please refer to Note 18.

Long-term borrowings and lease obligations
The fair value of long-term borrowings and lease obligations are determined by discounted present value method using sum of principal and interest, and interest rates which are determined with consideration of credit risk and remaining periods, and categorized in Level 2.
If the variable interest rate loans meet certain criteria for the short-cut method for interest rate swaps (if interest rate swap contracts are used as a hedge and meet certain hedging criteria, the interest rate swaps are not remeasured at market price and the amount to be received under the interest rate swap contract is added to or deducted from the interest on the liabilities for which the swap contract was executed) and for the allocation method for currency swaps, the sum of principal and the interest processed as interest rate swaps and currency swaps are discounted by using the reasonably estimated loan interest rate applied to the same kind of loans.

18. Derivatives

There are no derivative transactions for which hedge accounting has not been applied for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021.

Receivables from contracts with customers (balance at the beginning of the year)	¥ 29,504	$ 241,024
Receivables from contracts with customers (balance at the end of the year)	35,749	292,042
Contract liabilities (balance at the beginning of the year)	97	791
Contract liabilities (balance at the end of the year)	30	245

Contract liabilities are advance received from customers before delivery of products and included in “Other” in “Current Liabilities” in the consolidated balance sheet.
Contract liabilities will be reversed as related revenues are recognized.
The amount of contract liabilities as of March 31, 2021 for which revenue is recognized during the year ended March 31, 2022 was ¥97 million ($791 thousand).
Revenue recognized for the year ended March 31, 2022 for which contract liabilities were satisfied during previous periods are immaterial.

Disclosures about total amount allocated to the remaining performance obligations and the period in which related revenue recognition is expected are omitted, as there are no material contracts for which initially scheduled contract period exceeds one year.

21. Segment Information

Information about reported segment sales, segment profit, segment assets and other items under the new accounting standards is not disclosed as the Group's reportable segment is mainly printed circuit boards ("PCB"), and the related business, and other business is immaterial.

(Supplementary information)
(1) Information about products and services
Information about products and services is not disclosed since the sales amount of a single unit of product or service to external customers accounted for more than 90% of consolidated net sales.

23. Subsequent Events

Business Combination by Acquisition

On July 28, 2022, the Company made an institutional decision to acquire 100% of shares of NEC Embedded Products, Ltd. (hereafter "NECEP").

(a) Outline of the business combination

(1) Name and description of business of the company to be acquired:

Name	NEC Embedded Products, Ltd.
Description of business	Development, design, manufacture of electronic application equipment, machinery and instruments, all kinds of equipment, machinery, instruments and systems related to electricity, equipment, machinery, instruments and system, and entrusted work, sale and maintenance thereof.

(2) Major reasons for the business combination

The Company has embraced "Providing the best products and services to customers, and happiness for employees and society through manufacturing" as its management philosophy. To that end, we are taking on the challenge in the field of advanced electronics in terms of electronic PCBs, expanding and strengthening our EMS business, thereby aiming to contribute to our customers. In its medium-term management plan released on May 19, 2022, the Company has set forth a strategy to position and strengthen electronic PCBs and semiconductor package boards for automotive and smartphone applications, and the EMS business as new pillars in its business domain.

NECEP is capable to handle orders for a wide variety of electrical and electronic equipment utilizing its embedded product development capabilities and cutting-edge technologies. Namely, it has a unique competitive advantage in consistent entrusted operations from development and design to mass production, as well as in high-quality and high-reliability manufacturing capabilities. We believe that NECEP is the best strategic partner for our businesses, based on the fact that the addition of NECEP to the Group will enable it to establish an ODM-type EMS business structure with development and design functions, and to realize a proposal-based business structure targeting electronic PCBs to high value-added electronic products.

In order to expand the EMS business, going forward, the Company will promote collaboration between the electronic PCBs business and the EMS plants in Vietnam conducting development, design and mass production. Furthermore, the Company will work on building a system that can respond promptly to all needs, including for mass production and small- to medium-lot orders, by managing EMS factories in Japan and implementing in house evaluation and prototype development. We strive to provide our customers with the maximum level of services to further enhance the corporate value of the Group.

KPMG

Independent auditor's report

To the Board of Directors of Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd.:

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Meiko Electronics Co., Ltd. ("the Company") and its consolidated subsidiaries (collectively referred to as "the Group"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive income, changes in net assets and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended March 31, 2022, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended March 31, 2022 in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Japan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Appropriateness of the Company's judgment on the recoverability of deferred tax assets
The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
In the consolidated balance sheets, deferred tax assets of ¥1,841 million were recognized for the current fiscal year. As described in Note 2(u), "(Significant Accounting Estimates)" and Note 16, "(Income Taxes)" to the consolidated financial statements, the amount of gross deferred tax assets before being offset by deferred tax liabilities amounted to ¥2,063 million. Of this amount, the gross deferred tax assets recognized for tax loss carryforwards held by certain consolidated subsidiaries accounted for ¥741 million. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that deductible temporary differences and tax loss carryforwards are expected to reduce future taxable income. The estimated future taxable income, which was used to determine the recoverability of deferred tax assets, was based on the business plan prepared by management. Accordingly, there was a high degree of estimation uncertainty because the estimate involved significant management judgment on key assumptions, such as estimated sales reflecting order backlogs and estimated future orders. We, therefore, determined that our assessment of the appropriateness of the Company's judgment on the recoverability of deferred tax assets was of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the current fiscal year, and accordingly, a key audit matter.	We requested the component auditors of certain consolidated subsidiaries, to perform audits, and then evaluated the reports of the component auditors to conclude whether sufficient and appropriate audit evidence was obtained from the following procedures among others: (1) Internal control testing Test of the design and operating effectiveness of certain of the Company's internal controls relevant to the judgment on the recoverability of deferred tax assets, with a greater focus on the process to estimate the future taxable income. (2) Assessment of the reasonableness of the estimated future taxable income Assessment of the appropriateness of the key assumptions used for estimating future taxable income, which were important for management's judgment on the recoverability of deferred tax assets by performing the following procedures: ● Comparison of the estimated future taxable income used in determining the recoverability of deferred tax assets with the business plan, which formed the basis for the estimate, for consistency; ● Assessment of achievability of the business plan based on the analysis of the past business plan including the causes of variances with actual results; ● Assessment of the reasonableness of the basis for the estimated sales reflecting order backlogs and estimated future orders by inquiring of management and inspecting relevant documents; and ● Evaluation of the appropriateness of tax-return adjustments included in the scheduling of deductible temporary differences and tax loss carryforwards and the calculation of future taxable income based on the taxable income calculation of the subsidiaries for the current fiscal year.

Other Information

The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report issued by the Company, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the other information. Corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors are responsible for overseeing the directors' performance of their duties with regard to the design, implementation and maintenance of the reporting process for the other information.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Corporate Auditors and the Board of Corporate Auditors for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors are responsible for overseeing the directors' performance of their duties with regard to the design, implementation and maintenance of the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, while the objective of the audit is not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate whether the presentation and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements are in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in Japan, the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Convenience Translation

The U.S. dollar amounts in the accompanying consolidated financial statements with respect to the year ended March 31, 2022 are presented solely for convenience. Our audit also included the translation of yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts and, in our opinion, such translation has been made on the basis described in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements.
